Protect the Biodiversity of the Province of Verona

MAINTAINING THE BALANCE

Welcome to our hotel, located in a territory rich in biodiversity, where the beauty of nature and cultural heritage coexist in perfect harmony. The province of Verona, with its unique landscapes ranging from the hills of Valpolicella to city gardens, is home to an extraordinary variety of animal and plant species. Protecting this fragile natural balance is essential to maintain the richness of our territory and ensure a greener and more sustainable future. Our commitment to sustainability goes beyond ecological practices within the hotel. We also dedicate ourselves to raising awareness among our guests on the importance of preserving local biodiversity, essential for the health of ecosystems and quality of life.

Why is biodiversity essential?

Biodiversity is not just about the beauty of nature, but also its ability to support life. Every species, from the smallest plant to the largest animal, plays a crucial role in maintaining the balance of the ecosystem. Protecting biodiversity means protecting the air we breathe, the water we drink and the food we eat, helping to make the land more resilient to climate change.

We have to protect it.

We cannot simply admire biodiversity.

Lessinia Natural Park

Located partly in the province of Verona, the Lessinia Natural Park is an area of extraordinary natural beauty. This park is a refuge for numerous animal species, including deer, roe deer, and several species of birds, as well as a wide range of alpine flora. Exploring the Lessinia Park means immersing yourself in a pristine environment, where nature thrives free from human intervention.

Lake Garda

One of the largest and most picturesque lakes in Italy, Lake Garda is surrounded by a rich and varied natural environment. With its crystal clear waters and verdant hills, the lake is a habitat for many species of aquatic plants and animals, making it a must-see destination for nature lovers.

Valpolicella

This world-famous wine region not only produces fine wines, but is also home to a wide variety of flora and fauna. The hills of Valpolicella are ideal for walking and hiking, offering visitors the chance to immerse themselves in nature and observe the local biodiversity.

Monte Baldo

Known as the "botanical garden of Europe," Monte Baldo is a mountain rich in biodiversity. Here, you can find a wide variety of rare plants and animals. Hiking on Monte Baldo offers breathtaking views and a unique opportunity to explore a well-preserved ecosystem.

How can you contribute?

During your stay, we invite you to explore the Verona area in a sustainable way, choosing low environmental impact activities such as excursions, walks in the countryside or bike rides. Respect for nature is fundamental: every gesture, even the smallest, can make a difference. We, as a hotel, are committed to reducing our environmental impact and promote environmental education among our guests.

Together we can make a difference

Contributing to the protection of the biodiversity of the Verona area is a shared responsibility. By choosing to adopt sustainable behaviors during your stay, you will help to preserve the natural wonders that make this region unique. Every gesture counts: together we can build a better future, for ourselves and for generations to come.

Thank you
